CONSTITUTION

Of the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, in Rochester, Monroe Co. N. Y.

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.

We, members of the Church of Christ forming a congregation under the style and title Grace Ev. Lutheran Church of Rochester, N. Y. unite in the establishing of the Constitution hereinafter following, as a statement of common rights and a covenant of mutual duties as Christians, in order to sustain by the labor and gifts of love the pure Word and Sacraments as God's only appointed means for saving the lost and for edifying His people; and to maintain a discipline which shall aid in securing purity of doctrine, righteousness of life, and the peace and growth of the Church.

Article I.
Of the Doctrinal Basis.

(1.) This congregation receives and adheres to the canonical books of the Old and New Testament, as the Revealed Word of God and the only rule of faith and life, and to the Confessions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, especially the unaltered Augsburg Confession and Luther's Small Catechism, as a correct and faithful exposition of the Divine Word, to which rule and confessions all instructions in the Church, the schools and family shall be conformed, and by which all questions of doctrine shall be decided, and with which all books of worship and instruction in the Congregation shall accord.

(2.) It shall be in union with a Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, whose doctrinal basis in accordance with Art. I. 1, and IV. 3, of this Constitution.

Art. II. Of the Members,

(1.) This Congregation shall consist of the Pastor or Pastors, and other members of the Church of Christ, who have been baptized and admitted to the Lord's Supper, and who unite themselves as one communion under this Constitution, by accepting the same and performing the duties it enjoins; and also such baptized Members of their household as have not yet reached the years of separate responsibility, and are subject by God's ordinance to their control, as parents or guardians.

(2) All these members, so far as their years and spiritual fitness allow, have a right to the means of Grace provided for in the congregation, and to the faithful observance toward them of the duties which Pastors, officers and other members of the Church owe one to the other.

(3.) It is the duty of all members of the Congregation to be steadfast in the Baptismal Covenant, and if they be parents or guardians, early to bring the children under their care within the same, presenting them for Holy Baptism, to bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, to urge their attendance upon the catechetical instruction of the Pastor, and their preparation for the rite of Confirmation and the Lord's Supper. As they grow in years they are to grow in the knowledge and grace of God, diligently to study Holy Scripture, and use devout books which accord with it, to seek the light and aid of the Holy Spirit and all other needful gifts, by fervent prayer to examine themselves to receive the Lord's Supper faithfully, and, if possible, whenever it is celebrated, and regularly to use the ordinances of public, family and private devotion. They should be temperate in all things, should avoid all associations of an infidel or dubious kind, and which claim for themselves what God has given to His Church alone, should love and aid each other, and especially the needy and distressed, in every relation; and while they have regard to the household of faith even in things secular, should care for the souls and bodies of men everywhere. They should avoid all false teachers, and love, reverence, pray for, and heartily sustain faithful ministers; and should in all things be conformed to the mind and example of our most blessed Master and Saviour.

Article III. Of Congregational Meetings.

(1.) Every member of the Congregation, not under church censure, twenty one years of age, who as he conscientiously judges God hath prospered him, regularly contributes in accordance with its plans of local support and general beneficence, shall be entitled to take part in all its meetings and to vote at all its elections.

The voters of the Congregation, inasmuch as they act as the representatives of common rights, should duly weigh the wants, convictions and wishes of all members of the Congregation.

(2.) Congregational Meetings shall be held regularly, as the Congregation may determine, and Special Meetings shall be called by the Church Council at the request of the Pastor, or of a majority of the Council, or of one third of the voters submitted in writing, with a statement of the object, and with their signatures, to the pastors, or, during a vacancy, to the Council. They shall be duly announced with a statement of their object, and shall be opened and closed with religious exercises.

(3.) At Congregational Meetings any questions connected with the welfare of the Congregation may be discussed, information called for, from the Pastor, Council, or others, and business attended to as ordered in the Constitution and By-Laws.

(4.) The Congregation has power to appoint Special Committees with definite or general instructions, to permit the organization of approved societies within itself, subject to its control, to elect or authorize the Council to elect delegates to Synod from the number of legal voters, and to attend to all business for which it has not made other provisions in the Constitution.

Article IV. Of the Pastor.

(1.) The permanent and ordinary offices of the Congregation shall be the Pastorate and the Diaconate.

(2.) The Chief Officers of the Christian Congregation are named in the New Testament; Pastors or Shepherds, Bishops, Presbyters or Elders, and as they that have the rule in the Lord, all which names designate one and the same class of officers, whose dignity, rights, and general duties are under divine appointment the same, and are inalienable and unchangeable.

(3.) Every Pastor of this Congregation must at his ordination or installation be obligated to the Confessions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, namely: the Apostles; the Nicene and the Athanasian Creeds, the Augsburg Confession, the Apology, the Smalcald Articles, the Catechisms of Luther, and the Formula of Concord, and solemnly promise to perform the duties of his office in conformity with the same, as a pure and correct presentation of doctrine of Holy Scriptures. He shall be or become a member of the Synod with which the Congregation is united. He shall sign the Constitution of this Congregation and faithfully carry out the duties it assigns him.

(4.) It shall be the duty of the Pastor, as the Teacher and Spiritual guide of the flock, prayerfully to study and to hold and teach the pure truth of God's Word, and to set in public and private an example of unfeigned holiness, sound judgment and propriety. He shall conduct the public service of God's House on Sundays and other festival days of the Church; shall permit no one to occupy the pulpit of whose soundness in the faith, confessed by the Lutheran Church, there is reason to doubt; shall carefully give instruction to the young, and all others needing it, in the Catechism; shall be diligent in the catechization of the young on the Lord's Day; shall watch over the Sunday School and other schools of the Church; shall confirm those who having been duly instructed, give satisfactory evidence that they are earnestly desirous of being faithful followers of Christ. He shall baptize publicly except in special cases, and all private baptisms shall be publicly announced. He shall administer the Lord's Supper to all those of whose desire to come to it he has been notified, unless he be satisfied of their unfitness, either as to the faith or life, as also, if he shall judge best, to members unable from age or sickness, to come to the House of God. He shall be active in the work of a Pastor, most of all among the poor, the sick, the sorrowing, and all those whose spiritual estate demands his care. He shall perform the marriage ceremony in strict accordance with the laws of the State and of God; shall earnestly urge and carry out the discipline, shall promote all wise plans of Christian beneficence and effort; and shall labor to prevent all deadness and fanaticism, all schism, heresy, separations and alienation in the Congregation.

(5.) It shall be the duty of the Pastor to preside at all meetings of the Council and the Congregation, unless he be absent, or is temporarily unwilling for special reasons to preside, in either of which cases the Council or Congregation shall call one of their number to preside at said meeting.

All public statements of excommunication and restoration shall be made by him and no excommunication or restoration shall be pronounced which he conscientiously believes to be contrary to the Word of God and the discipline of this Church. No official act of the Congregation or Council shall take effect without his knowledge, and his having an opportunity of being heard; and in the involuntary or necessary absence of the Pastor, no business in the Congregation or Council shall be finally disposed of, of such a character that the Pastor as the chief officer of the Congregation has a right to be heard in it.

(6.) Charges against a Pastor, whether of heresy, immorality, or other causes of unfitness for his office, shall not be entertained except when attested by two or three competent witnesses. Any member of the Congregation having charges against the Pastor shall first proceed according to Matt. 18:15, 16. If the matter can not thus be settled it shall be laid before the Church Council in writing; and if the Council shall deem the charge or charges of sufficient importance, it shall select a suitable member from its own number to preside, and proceed to an investigation, furnishing the Pastor accused with a copy of the charges made, and allowing him a hearing, at which the witnesses for and against the charges shall be heard; and if the charge or charges prove to be well founded, and the Council so decide, it shall report the case to the President of Synod to which the Congregation belongs, to be disposed of in accordance with the Synodical Constitution.

An appeal from the action of the Church Council may be taken to the Conference or Synod, in the manner prescribed in the Synodical Constitution.

(7.) The Pastor shall keep a record of his ministerial acts in the Congregation, in a book to be by it provided, and remain its property. He shall make a full record of the Baptisms, infant and adult, of Confirmations, of the times of Communion and the number of Communicants, with a complete list of the same, of persons received from other Congregations, and all persons honorably dismissed, of persons excommunicated and of the time of their restoration, and of Marriages, burials and other items which he shall deem of importance in the history of the Congregation. All these shall be so recorded that if necessary, they be available as legal evidence.

(8.) When there is a vacancy in the Pastorate, the Council shall inform the President of Synod, or of the Conference, as the Synodical Constitution may determine, and solicit his advice; shall see to the supply of the pulpit, and shall nominate, after prayerful consideration, a candidate who is eligible according to Art. IV., 3., and who has the necessary gifts, bodily and spiritual, purity of Christian character, sound judgment and personal activity. One candidate only shall be nominated at one time, to be voted for or against by ballot, by the electors specified in Art. III., 1, and the election and its returns shall be under the care of judges, appointed as the Congregation shall determine.

(9.) When a Pastor has been elected by a majority of the legal voters, a written call in the name of the Congregation, shall be sent him by the officers of the Congregation, in which the support guaranteed him shall be specified.

Article V. Of the Deacons.

(1.) The Deacons are primarily the executive aids of the Pastors in the work of Christ for and in the Congregation, and may have assigned them any duties, in keeping with this object and with the divine and unchangeable duties and rights of the people and of the Pastors. They must be regular communicants, of good and established repute for personal character, wisdom and energy. They shall be installed with the laying on of the Pastors' hands. They may elect from their number a Treasurer and Secretary, and, if needed, assistants to both.

(2.) Their duties are of such nature as to leave the Pastor, as nearly as may be, unobstructed time and energy for the directly spiritual part of his official work, and also to aid him in that work by their councils and co-operation. They shall attend to the collecting and distributing of moneys given by the Congregation for the relief of the poor, and for the objects of Christian beneficence; shall see that the Pastor has a sufficient salary and that it be promptly paid; that the House of God be kept in repair, and in a condition fitting the Sanctuary of the Most High; that it be opened and prepared for public services at the times appointed, and that proper seats and others of like functions be provided; that strangers, or occasional attendants, be courteously received; that it be not diverted to any uses alien to its character; that the proper vessels and elements be provided for the Sacraments; that all property be secured to the Congregation in conformity with the law, and be placed under the proper regulations; and that in common with all its members yet pre-eminently they be ready to take part, especially at the call of the pastor, in the visitation and care of the sick, the needy, the bereaved, and the distressed, and in the maintenance of pure discipline and a holy life in the Congregation, most of all being themselves ensamples of all good works.

Article VI. Of the Church Council.

The Council of the Church consists of the Pastor or Pastors and the Deacons, as the constitutional executive officers of the Congregation.

Article VII. Of the Church Schools.

(1.) Inasmuch as the care of the young is one of the most important duties of the Congregation the religious education of the children of the Church shall be provided for, not only at home but in good Christian schools, and church members should avoid all Roman Catholic, heretical or infidel influence, or which are of a negative character, and should unite in the establishment of Parochial Schools wherever possible.

(2.) Parochial and Sunday Schools shall be under the control of the Congregation, and their constitution and acts are to be subject to its discipline and direction.

Article VIII. Of Discipline.

(1.) The Congregation is not only to acknowledge the obligations of the Word of God as a guide of life, and a corrector of evil, but is faithfully to use it in discipline for these ends. The discipline of the Church must be purely moral and spiritual, and in no case can pass beyond the withholding of her recognition, fellowship and communion from offenders.

(2.) Violations of the Divine commands shall be followed, according to Matt. 18: 15-17, by instructions, warnings and exhortation by a member to whom the wrong is known, or by the Pastor, first privately, then before witnesses. This failing in its proper effect, the case shall be laid before the Church, as represented in the Church Council, or in the congregational meeting, and if the offender persistently refuses to hear the Church, he shall be excluded from the congregation till there be credible evidence of true penitence and reformation. The charges against a member shall be given to him in writing; he is entitled to be present through the whole actual procedure against him, and has the right of being heard and producing testimony in his own defence. The exclusion and restoration shall be publicly announced.

Questions of appeal from the decision in the discipline of the congregation shall be referred to the Conference or Synod, in accordance with the Constitution of the Synod with which the congregation is connected.

Article IX. Of By-Laws and Amendments.

(1.) By-Laws not in conflict with the letter or spirit of this Constitution, the Constitution of the United States, or of the Commonwealth of New York, may be made by the congregation, to provide an order of business, to fix the time and place for announcing and holding Congregational

Meetings and Elections, and the way of conducting both; to determine the proportion which shall constitute a quorum; to fix the age at which men may be chosen as Deacons, and the length of the time of service, whether for life or for a limited term; to establish and direct Parochial and Sunday Schools; to fix the details of procedure in the discipline of members; to regulate the making and changing of the By-Laws themselves, and in general to conduct all things, whose general principle and methods are defined in the Constitution, but whose details are undetermined.

(2.) Amendments to this Constitution not in conflict with its fundamental principles, as defined in Art. I, 1, and IV, 3, nor in conflict with Art. IX, 1, proposed by at least three legal voters at a regular Congregational meeting, may be made by the congregation by a vote of two thirds of its legal voters present; said proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted in writing, be duly read to the congregation at least three months before the time of the meeting at which they are acted on, and notice of the time and place of such meeting shall be given four successive Sundays, or which public services are held, immediately preceding such meeting.

NAMES OF COMMUNICANTS.

DATES OF COMMUNIONS.

In recording the Names of Communicants, alphabetically, leave after each of the letters A, D, E, H, L, N, P and T, 10 blank lines; after I, J, O, Q, U, V, X, Y and Z, 5 blank lines; after F, G, K, M and R, 20 blank lines; after C and W, 25 blank lines; and after B and S, 35 blank lines. Then insert, alphabetically, the names of new members as they are received.

Explanatory remarks to be inserted opposite each name: P, present; S, sick; A, absent from home. If at home and not at Communion, leave blank—to be inquired after.
