A Story of Good Stemming from One Woman

One reads and hears much about moral breakdowns in our society. We are told that in such a society the church has a major role as guardian of community morals. Would it not be nearer the truth to point out that it is the faith, the high-minded purpose, and the example of church-minded individuals who are the key to moral recovery?

Newspapers do not make the news; they publish it. Knowing that goodness is more newsworthy than evil, I pass on this news.

Several weeks ago I buried a saint. Her saintliness stemmed from circumstances and conditions which is another person might offer excuse for failure. Mrs. Mina Wallman's husband worked as foreman on the construction of the present Sheraton Hotel building. Thirty-two years ago, while walking to his home on West Henrietta Road, he was killed by an automobile. Mrs. Wallman was left with the responsibility of rearing five young daughters.

Instead of bemoaning the cruelty of life she worked as a practical nurse, as an employee of the Brown Brothers Nursery Company, and, from 1940 until her retirement two years ago at the age of 75, she worked at the Hayden Company.

Her faith was a source of wonderment and enjoyment to her children. "Many times over we would ask her to recite the books of the Bible and repeat from memory many long passages from the Bible." At the many mother-daughter dinners held in Grace Lutheran Church, she was the mother with the most daughters present. Rain or shine, using buses for the long ride to church, she was present with her family Sunday after Sunday and year after year until it was assumed that she would be present.

Mrs. Wallman left behind much more than the memory of a saintly life. Her five married daughters and their families are all active church members. They are all active in Boy Scout and Girl Scout activities, in Parent-Teacher Associations, in the American Legion Auxiliaries and many other community service groups. Throughout their families there is a tradition of active participation in church choirs, in other organizations serving other people, and, equally important, the philosophy and example of this high-minded, heart-warming, sacrificial mother continues in them. There has not been a failure morally in the whole family.

When moral living based on religious faith in the good and in God once again becomes the Symbol of America, it will be because of the fact that American communities have a preponderance of individuals like Mrs. Mina Fredericka Johanna Dreier Wallman.

Congregation Recognizes Twenty Years Service of Music Director

C. Elmer Fisher Recipient of Gift from Admirers
at Grace Lutheran

The twenty-year service of C. Elmer Fisher as director of the ministry of music at Grace Lutheran Church was recognized yesterday at the morning service.

"When Mr. Fisher first went to Grace Church, on Dec. 1, 1910, the congregation's musical equipment was of the simplest type and the choir was small and had no trained voices," said a member of the congregation. "Today, through the fine service and high influence of Mr. Fisher, the congregation has one of the finest organs in the city and a choir recognized as one of the best volunteer church musical organizations in Rochester and vicinity. The choir is fully vested, has in it several trained voices and has sent one of its members, William Glaser, out into church music work as director of the choir of Emmanuel Lutheran Church."

"Not only has the choir, under Mr. Fisher's direction, proved itself efficient in the musical ministry of the congregation but it has contributed largely and generously in a financial way, giving $1,000 when the present organ was installed, and contributing $500 at the time of the congregation's fortieth anniversary. At present the choir is raising a fund to install an antiphonal organ."

"Outside the congregational life Mr. Fisher has led the choir into a fine and wide service for the benefit of the Kiwanis Joy car fund, at our city hospitals and old folks' homes, at missions, and in outlying congregations where the musical ministry is so difficult to carry on."

In recognition of Mr. Fisher's service of twenty years, the congregation presented him a wrought bronze desk set. The presentation was made by the minister, Rev. Walter Krumwiede, who spoke not only of the congregation's gratitude to Mr. Fisher, but of his own personal appreciation of having Mr. Fisher as his co-worker during the past eleven years.

Enter the proper record of communicants immediately after each administration.

In the first copying of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to keep this roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Experience has taught the best method of marking: P for communion; E for excused; A for not-at-home; S for sickness; all other absences have blank.

In the first copying of names into this record, arrange them alphabetically. As new members are received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

TOTALS PRESENT

Enter the proper record of communicants immediately after each administration.

In the first copying of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to keep this roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Experience has taught the best method of marking: P for present; E for excused; A for out-of-town; S for sickness; all other absences leave blank. In the first copying of names into this record, arrange them alphabetically. As new members are received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

	TOTALS PRESENT

Enter the proper record of communicants immediately after each administration.

In the first copying of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to keep this roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Experience has taught the best method of marking: P for communion; E for excuse; A for out-of-town; S for sickness; all other absences leave blank. In the first copying of names into this record, arrange them alphabetically. As new members are received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

In the first listing of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of receipt. Do not attempt to keep this roll in alphabetical order. It is for the record only. Experience has taught the best method of marking: P for permanent; S for student; A for sub-student; & for students; all other students leave blank. In the first listing of names into this record, arrange them in alphabetical order. If new members are received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reverse into the alphabetical arrangement from the new members received, which would cause too much work for a permanent record.

Enter the proper record of communicants immediately after each administration.

In the first setting of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to keep this roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Enter names too briefly the best method of marking: P for communion; E for excommunicated; A for out-of-town; S for sickness; all other absences leave blank. In the first setting of names into this record, arrange them alphabetically. As new members are received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

Enter the proper record of communicants immediately after each administration.

In the first copying of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to keep this roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Experience has taught the best method of marking: F for communion; E for excused; A for out-of-town; S for sickness; all other absences leave blank. In the first copying of names into this record, arrange them alphabetically. As new members are received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

In the first copying of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to key this roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Experience has taught the best method of marking: 1 for common; 2 for married; A for out-of-door; S for sickness; all other absences leave blank. In the final copying of names into this record, arrange these alphabetically. Do not attempt to rearrange the members as received, record them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

In the first alphabetical order, in this record, carefully use the name register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to keep the roll in alphabetical order. It wastes too much space. Experience has taught the best method of arranging: 1. For retired; 2. For members; 3. For children; 4. For others. If all others have blank in the first copy of names into this record, arrange them alphabetically. As new names are received, record them in alphabetical order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste too much space for a permanent record.

On the first copying of names into this record, carefully use the same register number that each one had in "Roll of Members." Enter names of new members in order of reception. Do not attempt to leave the roll in alphabetical order. It makes no such sense. Experience has taught the best method of marking: P for commencing; B for ending; A for out-of-town; S for students; all other members leave blank. In the first copying of names, list the new members last. As new members are received, insert them in chronological order. Do not attempt to reserve space for alphabetical arrangement for the new members received, which would waste the much space for S. S.

Record each ministerial act on the day performed.

NOTES.—Place number of baptism in either "Infant" or "Adult" as the case may be; e.g., 1, 2, 3 in Infant, 4 in Adult, 5 in Infant, etc. The continuous numbering gives whole number of baptisms. The age will readily catch from the columns, the number of each kind. Write Christian names in full. The only one line across both pages for each person baptized.

NOTE.—Last columns under "Parents" indicate with a () whether father and mother are members of the congregation or not. Write father's and mother's full names. Two sponsors' names can be written in one space. More are unnecessary in this record.

STER TIMES-UNION, TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT

William B. Zimmer Dies; Veteran of Three Wars

William B. Zimmer, 70, former Rochester lawyer who at one time was assistant district attorney of Monroe County, died yesterday (Sept. 6, 1948) in New York City where he had been in failing health for the last year.

Cmdr. Zimmer was a retired member of the U. S. Naval Reserve and was well known here in military circles. He retired from the Navy last year after having served in three wars. His nautical career began as a gunner's mate in the Spanish-American War.

Following the conflict, he was graduated from Cornell University and later from Union College. He became an assistant district attorney here and later was appointed special assistant state attorney general assigned to the Bureau of Grade Crossing Elimination.

During World War I he was a lieutenant commander serving as supply and disbursing officer aboard the troop transport USS Ryndam. Before World War 2 he was commander of the Summerville Training Station. He also served as head of the U. S. Naval Reserve in Rochester for several years preceding World War 2.

An expert on naval supply, he was called to active duty for the third time in 1941, being assigned to the New York Navy Yard as commanding officer for the Atlantic Seaboard and the Gulf Coast. He retired from the Navy last year and since has resided in New York City.

He was at one time an exalted ruler of the Rochester Lodge of Elks and head of the New York State Naval Militia. He was commander of the Monroe County American Legion in 1921 and was a member of Damascus Temple of the Shrine.

Mr. Zimmer is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fredericka Zimmer of New York City; a niece, a nephew and several cousins. A funeral service will be held at Hedges Memorial Chapel, 277 University Ave., Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

It singeth low in every heart; We hear it each and all - A song of those who answer not, However we may call. They throng the silence of the breast, We see them as of yore - The kind, the true, the brave, the sweet, Who walk with us no more.
MR. EDWARD RICHARD BROCKMANN was called to his Lord quietly this morning at 7:34 A.M. He will be buried from the Burns and Hanna Funeral Home, 1826 Ridge Road East, Irondequoit, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Honorary pallbearers will represent the Church which he loved so well and for which he worked and prayed so hard.

John C. Barg Dies, Prominent Layman In Lutheran Church

John C. Barg, 62, a Lutheran layman prominent in church activities, died yesterday (March 10, 1958) after six months' illness at his home, 58 Aebersold St.

Mr. Barg, a native of this city, was a lay preacher at Grace Lutheran Church and was supply lay preacher for two years at St. John's Lutheran Church, Lyons. A lifelong member of the Rochester church, he began teaching Sunday School there at age 15. He sang in the church choir 35 years.

He served two terms on the executive committee of the United Lutheran Synod of New York; was president of the Western New York Conference, Lutheran Brotherhood; member of Ancient Craft Lodge of Masons; and director of the Lutheran Inner Mission Society of Rochester.

He was assistant superintendent of buildings for Colgate Rochester Divinity School at his death.

Surviving are his wife, Viola Neuwirth Barg; a daughter, Mrs. Freda Hara of Washington; a son, Jack L. Barg of Akron; a sister, Mrs. J. Daub, and two brothers, Charles and Albert. Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Menges Funeral Home, 309 Portland Ave., with burial in White Haven Memorial Park.
