THE importance of accuracy in the records of churches, all are ready to admit. We are the more impressed with this, from the fact, that already many churches find it very difficult to make an accurate list of their members. They have had no plan by which the history of each member could easily be traced. Serious inconvenience has also been experienced in the collecting the necessary proofs for legal use. Although there may be abundance of popular evidence of the baptism of a person, as the son of particular parents, or that certain persons were properly married, and were legally husband and wife, still, if no record of the same is found upon the books of the church, the chain of legal evidence will be incomplete; and thus the deserving and the needy may be deprived of their just rights.

A plan then, which shall be both simple and accurate, will contribute much to the peace and order of the churches, as well as protect the temporal interests of men. It is one argument in favor of such a plan, that if it, or some similar one, should be generally adopted, a good degree of uniformity may be secured, and thus the benefit of the community more certainly advanced.

The Form of Government, Chap. vi, Sec. 13, makes it necessary, that in addition to the Book of Records, there shall be kept by each Session "a fair register of baptisms, of persons admitted to fellowship, and of the deaths and other removals of church members." With the view of carrying out these important directions, this plan, called the Church Register, has been prepared. For the sake of convenience, it is divided into three parts.

The First Part contains the names of the church members, in the order in which they are received, with columns ruled in the following manner, which, for the purpose of illustration, are filled up with a few names and items of history.

REGISTER OF CHURCH MEMBERS.

No.	WHEN RECEIVED.	NAMES.	WIFE OR WIDOW OF	Page of Record.	How Rec'd.	Bap.	REMARKS.

Connected with this register is an alphabetical index, in which is placed the name of the person and the number on the register. Thus, in a few moments, the name of any person can be found, and all the circumstances connected with his history as a church member. An examination of this register will always accurately show all the items necessary for any report which may be called for.

The columns one and three will tell the number of admissions either in whole or for any given period: whilst the sixth column will denote how many have been received by letters from other churches, and how many on the profession of their faith. The fourth column refers to the page of the book of Records, on which the vote of the session admitting the person will be found.

The number of adult baptisms will be ascertained by consulting the seventh column, in which the letter B is placed opposite to all those who, when professing their faith in Christ, received the ordinance of Christian Baptism. The department for Infant Baptism is in a separate part of the book, properly ruled for that purpose, and which will be described below.

The column for remarks will show the number of dismissions, deaths, suspensions, and excommunications. It will be proper when noting the time of the death of a member, to draw with a pen a black line directly beneath the name, as is done in the illustration above. See No. 2 and No. 10 of the Register.

The Second Part is devoted to the registry of Infant Baptisms, and will show all particulars necessary to be recorded.

DATE.	NAME.	WHEN BORN.	PARENTS.
1862. January 12. " July 24.	William Henry. Jane Eliza.	1861. July 10. 1859. October 1.	John and Helen Munson, Edward and Matilda Jones.

By turning to the entries made in these columns, it can be seen at a glance, the number of infant baptisms each year. It will also enable the clerk to find the record of any baptism, which has been performed in connection with the church, and this evidence will be always good evidence in court.

The Third Part is ruled for the registering of Marriages. The importance of having such a record is every day becoming more and more manifest, especially as in some states, no registry is required by the law.
