Dr. William G. "Rocky" Rocktaschel, a general practitioner in Rochester for about 34 years, died Monday (May 23, 1988) of heart failure at Rochester General Hospital. He was 89 and resided on Santa Circle, Pittsford.

As a teen-ager, Dr. Rocktaschel wanted a medical career, said a longtime friend, Grace Kime of Pittsford. But first he had to raise enough money to attend college.

He left East High School to work at several jobs, including one as an electrical apprentice. He returned to East to earn his diploma.

Dr. Rocktaschel graduated from Hobart College in 1930 and received a medical degree from the University of Buffalo, now the State University of New York at Buffalo, in 1934.

He opened an office on North Clinton Avenue in 1934. Two years later, he relocated to 1020 St. Paul St., where he practiced until he retired in 1977.

Outside of work, Dr. Rocktaschel enjoyed fishing and traveling.

Also, after he retired, he spent a lot of time in his yard, planting fruit trees, shrubs and a vegetable garden, Kime said.

He was a fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians and was a Navy flight surgeon during World War II.

Dr. Rocktaschel's wife, Anne Rocktaschel, died in 1964.

He is survived by a sister, Emma Hoffman of St. John's Home; a niece, Mary Lou Huff of Rochester; and two nephews, George Hoffman of Pittsford and Charles Hoffman of North Carolina.
