Rochester was founded in 1812 and immediately, as the records say, churches of English speaking folks were established. With the influx of settlers into the Valley of the Genesee, the poor but thrifty and industrious German came and in 1837 a "Zion Lutheran Church" was organized among them. Due to dissatisfaction of one kind or another, some members were prompted to withdraw and founded "The German United Protestant Trinity Church" in 1842.

After worshipping in rented buildings for five years the first church was erected in 1847 on Allen St.
